

Save the World

Inspiring words for all who are devoted to making this world a better place

Anna Maria Bezemer

Copyright © 2019 Anna Maria Bezemer

Published by Atomo Inspiratieburo, Netherlands 2019

www.atomo.nl, www.inspiratie4u.nl

This free e-book can be passed on to others in this format. All rights reserved.

Information from this publication may only be reproduced or made public by third parties, in any way whatsoever, when a clear, complete and correct citation is attached.

The intention of the author is to only offer information of a general nature, which can help you in your quest for wellbeing. When you use any information for yourself, which is your constitutional right, the author and the publisher will not accept any responsibility for that.

Introduction

Saving the world can be seen as a very naive concept, for dreamers only. But I don't see it like that at all. Saving the world is the most powerful and real thing anyone could ever do.

I truly believe, that the world only still exists because through the years there have always been people, who were building where there was destruction. And who brought love where there was hatred.

We are very fortunate to have many of these people in our time as well, people in all shapes and sizes, who operate either very visible or in anonymity. People who dedicate their lives to something greater, with an effect that will go way beyond their lives span.

People with vision, with a calling and with hope and faith. People who have a great love for life and who care about how we handle life. Remarkable, courageous people.

People like you. And that is why I want to be an inspiration for you with this book.

The 'Save the world' e-book contains 40 inspiring texts. You can read them for instance by choosing a number between 5 and 44 and read the text on the page number you picked. Or just scroll through the pages and read the words on the page where the cursor stops.

Enjoy!

Anna Maria

All you do, you do to save the world.

Regardless of what others may think and regardless of what it might look like on the outside.

Your life represents all lives.
We are one.
When you save yourself, you save everyone.

Saving the world can only be done
from the inside out and one step at a time.
Therefore it is essential to be both patient and persistent.

In today's world it might not always be apparent,
but you know for a fact that love will win in the end.
That is why you can keep doing what you are doing.

All life is connected.
So if one part is healed, that healing will effect everything and everyone.

Your inspiration always takes you back to what your life is all about. So you can never be far away from your life's purpose, even though you might sometimes think that you are.

The earth seems to be in a horrible state. This is difficult and painful for you to see.

However, under the surface a lot of good work is already being done. Preparations are ongoing and healing is closer than you think. So hang in there.

Stay connected to love.
Always stay connected to love.
Especially when things are difficult and you feel like you can't do it anymore.
Because that's exactly when love is your only salvation.

Love your enemy!

Not what your enemy does, but who your enemy is.
Because we are all connected. We are one with our enemy. Therefore hating your enemy means hating part of yourself. And that won't help you.

So love your enemy.

If you feel powerless, if you are unsure about what you can do for the world, burn a candle, pray for the world and send light and love
to everything and everyone.
And soon enough you will know exactly what difference you can make for the world.

Take good care of yourself.
Give yourself love and wish yourself the best.
That is the way to help yourself and to help the world at the same time.

Healing the world is not a quick process and it won't always be a very visible process either. But there are many of us. We work in silence and we are making progress, taking it one step at a time. Until that special moment when the results will suddenly become very clear.

Caring for people, animals and nature is in our genes.
Everyone cares deep down inside, even though it doesn't always show. So we only have to touch it often enough to let it grow.

There is nothing wrong with being afraid.
It keeps us grounded and alert.
And as long as we know that fear will always be overcome by unconditional love, we are fine.

The energy flow from above enhances the energy flow from below. And the integration of the two brings salvation to us and to our world.

The fact that there is evil within human beings is not a that big a problem. That might sound strange, but evil is easy to heal in the end. Light will conquer darkness every time. Believing this will help you to do whatever is needed.

Switch off your head and focus on your senses right now. This will help you to find out what your next step needs to be. Once you know, your head will start to help you get it done.

Disconnect from anything that hinders you to be who you are and to do what you want to do.

Opinions and judgments only stand in the way.
Just release them, so Love and Freedom can fill the empty space.

You feel alone in your struggle
and that is understandable.
But if you reconnect with your core you will soon feel reconnected with life itself.

Depending on others or on the circumstances will not help you in this situation.

This needs to be done by you on your own.
It is the only way. You can do it, you really can.

Do not count on a quick win, this is a lengthy process. But success is inevitable, of that you can be sure.

The way a flower grows and blooms in the soil it has been planted in, you will fulfill your life's work in the life in which you were born.

All will be well if you are truthful to yourself right now. Although some people might not understand at this stage, trust your inner self.

An instant, a lifetime, time is relative.
Take the time to rest and to find peace.
There will always be enough time for what matters.

Saving the world seems too big of a goal to achieve.
But it isn't, because you can start small.
And then, just like a snowball, it will grow bigger and bigger. Every goal, however big, starts small.

You learn every day. Some lessons are more challenging than others, but you learn every day. And this brings you closer to your end result, one day at a time.

Protect your boundaries. This is essential if you want to reach your goals. Do it with love and conviction and you will succeed.

Your dreams are not too big, nor are they illusions.

They are real and reachable.

Even though it might take some time and effort to get there. So hang in there and stay true to your dreams.

There is more good in this world than evil.
There are more than enough good people on this earth to save the world.
And you are one of these many many good people.

People who are devoted to making the world a better place are often still looked upon as naive dreamers. They aren't. Slowly but surely people will realize, that doing good for the world is a wise choice, that benefits everything and everyone. For some people that might still be hard to believe, but this will change soon.

Trying to make the world a better place is difficult. There are many setbacks, times when you just want to give up. But please keep the faith, because we are really making headway. And that will become apparent soon.

It is not about proving anything.
You know what you know and you know what you feel. And that is all the proof you need.

Saving the world is a complex process that works on many layers at the same time.

But there is a distinctive goal and there are very clear guidelines. Hold on to that thought when complexity hits you.

When times get rough,
hold on to what drives you from within.
That is your anchor. And that will always bring you back to your base and guide you towards your goal.

The road you have chosen for yourself might be long and difficult, but it is also the most beautiful and most rewarding road of all.
And that is why you chose it.

Nothing is simple or obvious.
Everything has deeper layers and multiple viewpoints.
That is why there is no right or wrong.
Follow your intuition, your gut feeling.
That is all there is.

Deal with every crisis vigorously and consciously and do whatever it takes to secure your own safety. Be clear about your boundaries and always be prepared for anything. Then, and only then, you will reach your final goal.

It is best to learn at an early age.
Investing in youth, including your own youth,
will therefore lead us all into a better future.

Wisdom comes with age.
So use the wisdom of the generations before us and the wisdom that is hidden deep within yourself.
That will help you.

Other titles by Anna Maria Bezemer

(all in the Dutch language)

Volg de Levensweg Inspirational Card Deck
Wat zegt je Zelf Inspirational Card Deck

Loslaten Inspirational Card Deck
Je verdient het Inspirational Card Deck
Wat zegt je hart Inspirational Card Deck
Zin in je leven Inspirational Card Deck
Je hogere zelf Inspirational Card Deck
Kaarten van de Rust Inspirational Card Deck
Innerlijke Vrede Inspirational Card Deck

Wensen, Dromen, Dankbaarheid Game

These titles are available at www.bol.com

